

ÓPERA PÉREZ GALDÓS

ÓPERA PÉREZ GALDÓS

WHAT IS IT ABOUT?

It is an interdisciplinary Project carried out by different schools.

The idea is to give an opportunity to talented young students to show their abilities. They work together for a year to create a wonderful show: An Opera.

They interchange educational experiences with teachers and other students from different schools. They have to decide about the characters, settings, hairdressing, atrezzo... The most important are the students and their learning, to maintain them motivated, to push them to go on studying and make them get the right vocational skills. They get in touch with the real world of work.

It is a pioneer project in Europe supporting training and culture. A Showcase with great expectations. There are agreements with different European Universities like Universität der Künste in Berlin (outstanding school in the world of arts) for cooperation and foreign-exchanges to work together.

A thick pink arc curves across the top of the slide, spanning from the left edge to the right edge.
